Airport Parking Demand Surges for Thanksgiving & Christmas

Suffield, CT – November 11, 2003 -- AirportParkingReservations.com, a service offering guaranteed parking reservations for travelers departing from over 65 airports throughout the US and Canada reports a surge in demand for airport parking as the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays approach.

Parking operators in several major markets including LaGuardia, JFK, Baltimore-Washington, Oakland, etc. are already selling out in advance for weekend departures and anticipate this holiday season to be the busiest in recent years.

Tom Lombardi, President of AirportParkingReservations.com noted, “Travelers who plan in advance this holiday season can avoid frustrating delays and high prices. The improving economy is increasing air travel sales during this peak travel period. We’ve seen the traffic to our website and call center double in the last few weeks. Reserving airport parking is no different than reserving airline tickets, a hotel room or car rental. They’re all necessary to ensure a peaceful trip.”
